

THE BRITISH WARSHIPS ASSOCIATION

*The British Warships Association
serving The Royal Navy*

Aims of the Association

The Aims of the British Warships Association are to:

- develop links for Her Majesty's Warships with business and communities in their home regions
- raise awareness of the brave work of the Royal Navy
- keep the Ship's name's "alive" whilst they are at sea
- enhance the life of a sailor aboard
- raise fund's for the Ship's Charities

The BWA operates on a "Not For Profit" basis with surplus funds being donated to Naval Charities.

For Further Information:

Email: info@bwa.org.uk

Address: The British Warships Association
PO Box 135
NP44 9BZ

Web: www.bwa.org.uk

British-Warships-Association

@BritishWarships

SUPPORT YOUR LOCAL WARSHIP!

When over the horizon, thousands of miles away from home, perhaps facing hostile sea's or being asked to put themselves in harms way, our brave sailors of the Royal Navy do their duty, keeping us all safe and secure.

As committed professionals they spend many months away on deployment ensuring our shipping lanes are kept open, exercising diplomacy, delivering humanitarian aid or tackling piracy.

Today's Royal Navy is agile, thrusting and responsive. Whether it be the new Type 45 Destroyers, our Type 23 Frigates, the Assault & Support Ships, Mine-hunters, Patrol class vessels or our Submarines the fleet works harmoniously to protect the nation.

At the British Warships Association (BWA) we support the ships and boats of the Royal Navy helping to raise awareness of the fine work they do, invigorating public support and above all demonstrating to the ships company that we all care!

Through our support organisation we engage with the warships, ensuring a "welcome" in every port, arrange local sports & social events and a hearty cheer of farewell when its time to set sail once again.

Having your friendship, camaraderie, and appreciation makes facing that ultimate sacrifice all the more meaningful. Knowing that we care means so very much to all aboard. Showing that you care means so very much more!

For each warship the BWA forms a group of supporters, known as an "Auxiliary Crew".

Whether it's a quayside welcome, a formal mess dinner, a summer garden party, a concert evening, ten pin bowling or organising a charity event, the important thing is that we all enjoy time together with our sailors.

Our Auxiliary Crews also carry out Ships Benefit projects which serve to enhance a sailors' life aboard or time away.

As an Affiliate the BWA, from time to time, is also invited to events aboard ship, such as ships tours, capability demonstrations and opportunities to go to sea.

Join us and support your Royal Navy!